Instructions and procedures to dismiss Consent

Important: If you no longer want your Consent Decree, Parenting Plan or Child Support order to be entered, you must submit something to the Court before the sixty (60) day waiting period is up. The waiting period starts the day you file your initial papers.

If the parties have reconciled and no longer wish to divorce:

- 1. Complete, sign and file a "Stipulation to Dismiss." Forms and instructions are available on the Law Library Resource Center's Family Court Forms website.
- 2. Deliver a file-stamped copy to the assigned judge.
- 3. The Stipulation must be filed and delivered before the sixty (60) day waiting period is up.

Note: It is always best to consult with a lawyer before filing legal documents. The Law Library Resource Center website provides various resources that can help you find a lawyer at a reduced rate.
